

ZONING BY LAW THREATENED

Wilmington's 'Model Zoning By Law' of a dozen years may soon be a thing of the past.

Legislation now pending in the State House would take away from the Town of Wilmington and similar communities throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts the right to make their own decisions. It would be, according to Mrs. Madelyn McKie, chairman of the Wilmington Planning Board, 'An infraction of the Home Rule Amendment'.

Specifically, the legislation is aimed at forcing the communities to allow the construction of low cost housing developments, up to five percent of the gross buildable land in any community, and at a rate of one percent a year.

The housing developments would be constructed by a mystery organization, which is defined as a 'Limited Dividend Corporation'. As now written the law specifically states 'Every Zoning Ordinance and By-Law shall be deemed to allow Special Housing Developments.'

The proposed law does no correlate to any existing low cost houses or developments. It specifically adds another 5% to each community.

Provisions for Board of Appeals hearings, in the proposed law, can best be described as a macabre joke. The law says that 'The Board of Appeals Shall grant --'.

There is no way for any town to defeat the proposals of the mysterious 'Limited Dividend Corporation' other than to have its

TOWN MEETING VOTES APPROVED

Town Clerk Esther Russell received a letter Tuesday from the Attorney General, which notified her that all changes in Zoning, Building and Town By-Laws, voted in the annual Town Meeting have been approved.

She is to post the notices today as required by law, and the changes become effective at that time.

representatives and senators vote against the proposed law, in the state house. If the law is voted, it will then be too late.

WE ARE PINK LADYSLIPPERS
For the next ten days or so you may see us, in bloom, in the wood lands of Wilmington.

But we are a disappearing species of flower. 50 years ago the woods of Wilmington were filled by ladyslippers, each springtime. Now many of the places where we once bloomed are no longer suitable.

If you see us, admire us, but PLEASE DO NOT PICK. We are not prolific, as is, for instance, the dandelion. We have but two seeds apiece, and we are fighting a losing battle for existence!

Cain's Views on Legislative Cut

Occasionally I am called upon to make a decision on legislation that could appear to be unpopular among my constituents, were they not aware of the true consequences of this vote.

House Bill 300, to cut the size of the legislature to 160 members, was brought up this week in joint convention and postponed until January 19, 1970. I voted for the delay.

This delay will have no effect on the voter's rights as there can be no state election until November of 1970. It will, however, give each legislator an opportunity to acquaint his constituents with the hidden dangers in this bill, as it regards his district.

Until I was elected in 1964 the Town of Wilmington had enjoyed recently only two years of representation, by Representative Ralph Currier in 1932.

The town was neglected as far as state and county assistance was concerned, and no legislation favorable to it was passed.

How Will The New Redistricting Affect Wilmington?

Under the contemplated redistricting plan each district will be composed of 33,000 population. This figure can vary only 10% plus or minus.

Wilmington, with a population of about half of that, will be included with some other town, or perhaps the city of Woburn. It could be that there will be more votes in that other town, or city.

Speaking only from the viewpoint of what is good for Wilmington, it is my sincere belief that the town must and should be represented in the state legislature, by a resident of the town, and not necessarily myself.

Wilmington will revert to its former status, if the proposed legislation is voted. It will no longer have a voice.

As I see things at the present time, House Bill 300 is not a good idea, as far as this town is concerned.

Building Permits Zoom

Five Industrial Building Permits have been granted, or are to be shortly, from the office of the Building Inspector.

Roy McClanahan has granted a permit for a warehouse on Industrial Way, for the Edison Bros. Stores, which he valued at $1,225,000. The building will occupy 188,370 square feet, and ultimately will be doubled in size.

Another permit on Industrial Way is for a Commodity Warehouse, 80,000 square feet in size, and valued at $560,000 by Mr. McClanahan. It is to be built by Fred DiCenso, of Quincy, the developer of the area.

The Stevens Realty Trust, which is developing land on Woburn St and preparing to develop off Eames Street, has taken out a permit for a building which is to be 24,160 square feet. So far the permit is only for shell and roof, and the valuation is $100,000. The location is to be at 823 Woburn Street, and the building may be used for either warehousing or manufacturing.

The Barbo Furniture Company has taken out a 'foundation' permit for a warehouse, to be located at the upper end of Fordham Road.

The foundation is for a warehouse which will be 74,218 square feet in size.

Percy Crocker, 91 year old industrialist of Federal Street Boston, and the owner of 81 acres of industrial land between Andover Street and Ballardvale Street, has taken out a permit for a 20,000 square foot building, to be located off Upton Court. It is understood that it is planned for rental purposes, and will have mainly office

The permit has not yet been issued.

More Legislators Needed

For several years the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts has been seeking to reduce the number of Representatives in the Great and General Court from 240 to 160. With all due respect to the ladies, this column submits that to do so would be a gross error.

To decrease the number of Representatives is to increase the chances of Power Plays, in the Legislature. It would be just that much easier.

Ideally, the Supreme Court of the United States has said, there should be even representation of voters in any Legislature.

Ideally, too, this column submits, every municipality in Massachusetts should have its own voice in the Legislature.

To combine these two ideals is difficult, but to reduce the number of State Representatives would not better the situation - it would make it worse.

And - if reducing the number of representatives is an improvement - why not go further? Why not reduce the number to 120 - or 80 - or less?

Historically, there have been many cases of conflict between the representatives of the larger cities and the representatives of the smaller towns in Massachusetts. No matter how good their intentions, the rural representatives have not been able to represent communities, other than perhaps their own. Other communities found themselves in the position of being the tail of the dog.

Wilmington, in nearly 200 years of government under the present constitution, has had five representatives, as far as this column knows - and (not a part of this discussion) one Senator.

Capt. John Harnden, in the days after the Revolution, played a significant part in the addition of a Bill of Rights to the Constitution of Massachusetts. That Bill of Rights was an example for the people who drew up the Constitution of the United States. Every citizen of every state today owes him, and those who worked with him a vote of thanks for the stand they took at that time.

Lemuel Cobb Eames represented Wilmington in the mid 1800's, and in the nineteen hundreds this town has been represented by Herbert Buck, Ralph Currier and Fred F. Cain.

Five representatives in nearly two centuries. Surely no one is going to accuse Wilmington of being over-represented!

Other towns contiguous to Wilmington have been in the same situation - viz: Burlington, Billerica, Tewksbury, Andover and North Reading. North Reading is today a part of a two-man district. All agree that there should be no such districts.

To reduce the size of the Legislature will mean that these towns, and dozens more like them in Massachusetts - will again go back to the status of being the tail, that is being waved by the dog of the larger community.

If anything, the Legislature should be increased in size, to give more and better representation to the citizens and communities of this Commonwealth.

A New Town Hall

Every now and then someone starts talking about a new Town Hall, for Wilmington. The cost is almost always upwards of $500,000.

It will never be built. At least, for a long time. People who want to build Town Halls do not have behind them the power of people who talk about the building of schools. And right now the Wilmington School Committee is talking about a new high school, or a serious enlargement of the present facility, to perhaps cost as much as $12,000,000.

Another thing that is being talked of deserves comment. Every now and then someone connected with the School Department very casually mentions that the 'Swain School should be torn down' - after the new High School is completed, of course. It is sort of an unexpressed but still foregone conclusion.

This column submits that instead it could be made into a fine town hall, with just a little thought and perhaps $100,000 in cash.

Once upon a time that building was the High School of Wilmington. There was a fine little auditorium, or assembly room, seating about 150 persons. It is still there, but it has been divided into class rooms. Tear down those partitions, and there will be a fine place in the Town Hall to conduct public hearings, etc etc.

There are two large rooms on the main floor. They could become fine places to conduct public business - for such people as the Town Clerk, Town Collector, etc.

Upstairs are a number of rooms which would lend themselves very nicely to such functions as Accounting and Billing, and a hideway office for the Town Manager.

The place could make a very nice town hall. Of course there will be some who will not be satisfied. They will want to have another architect's dream.

But for the common taxpayer - who needs that kind of dream?

Selectmen's Meeting

Robert Morehouse, of the US Department of Agriculture, told the Board of Selectmen Monday night that the area eastward of Kenwood Avenue, while composed of 'muck', can be drained.

But the Board of Selectmen probably did not hear the statement. They were too busy extending congratulations to each other, for having given the area an adverse report, in a Hatch Act hearing of about a year ago.

The Selectmen listened, or so it seemed, only until the word 'muck' was used, before they started their self-congratulations.

Morehouse and Ralph Work, both soil scientists attached to the Soil Conservation Service, and cooperating with the Middlesex Conservation District, spent an hour with the Selectmen, displaying the plans of Wilmington which had been made, as a result of the soil survey of last summer, and explaining the technical terms used in the report which accompanies the maps.

Present, in addition to the Selectmen were several members of the Planning Board, and Christian Bachman, chairman of the Conservation Commission.

Morehouse told the Selectmen that the work in Wilmington had been done as a result of a contract signed by the Wilmington Planning Board in January 1968, and the work was done last summer.

The aerial photos, he told the Selectmen, can be interpreted for the types of soils, which were clued by symbols, all of which are explained in a booklet which accompanies the maps.

The maps are for general use he told the Selectmen, and are indicators of the type of soil that is to be found in the various areas. For detailed knowledge a local examination is advisable.

Each soil has definite characteristics and qualities. In the type of survey done for Wilmington, the soils are mapped or separated on the bases of such properties as texture, natural soil drainage, amount of stones, depth to bedrock, slope gradient, hardpan, and other features which can be evaluated to predict the limitation of a particular soil for a specific use.

Deep Muck

Wilmington, according to the interpretations of the maps and the survey, has a lot of Deep Muck. The survey shows that there are 1819 acres of muck, suitable for wildlife, and not much else, or, percentage wise, 16%. He did say that such areas can be remedied.

The names used in classifying the soils were almost exotic. The explanation was that the names had been picked and used as soil scientists and geologists were exploring the land of Massachusetts, and frequently land in a local area had its generic name given to areas all over New England.

Birchwood, one of the names used, sounds like the name of a summer camp. It is the name for for rocky out-croppings in moderately drained soil. Wilmington has a total of 220 acres of 'Birchwood'.

Septic Tanks

Limitations for use of soil for septic tank purposes are shown. Words such as 'moderate' and 'severe' limitations were used to describe the soils.

Morehouse told the Selectmen several times that he hoped the board would use the determinations as a guide in solving problems.

It was George Boylen who made the enquiry about Alderwood Estates. After locating the area on the map Morehouse told the Selectmen that the soil was of 'deep muck, Birchwood and Scarboro soils'. He said that this should not be built on.

When the Selectmen mystifyingly said that homes already exist on it, Morehouse said quietly that the 'Birchwood' could provide drainage if a stream above were cutoff. This, he thought, would provide relief.

Interpretive Maps

Provided with the survey were a number of 'Interpretive' maps, provided for special uses by the various boards and officials. Mr. Morehouse discouraged using them except for General Planning.

They could be colored to show the various soils, green, red, blue, etc. each number having its own color. It could be a nice job, he said, for some civic minded group or, for instance, a group of Boy or Girl Scouts.

Green could mean ready for use, yellow could mean caution, etc. etc.

TM Morris wanted to know if there was anything 'unusual' relative to the soil of Wilmington.

Work said there was an intricate pattern of sandy outwash in the swampy areas. The high points were stony glacial tell, with gravel plains in between, interspersed with much soils - approximately 10% sandy, 10% bed-rock, 36% gravel.

The maps are to be turned over to the Town Manager, for distribution to the various boards and officials needing them.

Other Business

Mrs Madelyn McKie reported on the as yet unnumbered bill in the State House (reported on the front page of this issue).

George Morey and Edward DeLoury to discuss their land on Andover Street, as required by the Board of Appeals. They have land on which two homes can be built.

Mr DeLoury indicated the removal of 10,000 yards of gravel in accordance with the Board of Appeals decision 'in and out of town'. On inquiry from Mrs Drew he set a termination date of one year.

A 3 to 1 slope instead of a 2 to 1 slope previously shown, was indicated. Town Engineer Arthur Harding had discussed this with the Town Counsel, and that a 3 to 1 slope was indicated. DeLoury and Morey presented a $3000 bond.

Boylan, who moved to vote a permit for one year, to May 1, 1970, remarked that this 'was a test'. The two men replied that the town officials were 'welcome' on the property at any time, to note their performance.

A vote was taken. Boylen and MacDonald were in favor, and Miceli voted No. Mrs. Drew could not vote, since her son is employed by DeLoury and Morey.

Banda unhappily asked what kind of a bond was offered. He was told 'Performance Bond'. Miceli said it was 'no good - too hard to enforce'. The two applicants then left, and left the exhibits and bond with the TM.

There was a review of a violation of the Zoning ByLaws, and a decision in favor of enforcement. An abatement on Marcia Road was discussed, and then deferred until details could be obtained from the Principal Assessor.

Mr Banda wanted to know 'How many members were going to that prison on May 21st?' It was an invitation he was talking about, and Miceli moved that the 'Chairman Go!'

New Business

Mrs Drew charged the TM with having a clean Town Square for Memorial Day. MacDonald then charged him with having a clean up in the Cemetery. Boylen then changed the tone, and complimented him on the Stop signs at Adams and Parker Streets, and Sheridan Road.

Boylan suggested that work be started on studying plans for Olson Road and extension to Cain's garage on one end, and Rocco's on the other. He moved that the Selectmen proceed with this as their project, and have a board meeting with Rep. Fred Cain and the Town Engineer. Mr Banda is to arrange it.

Banda withdrew early, saying that he had a Board of Appeals case coming up, and he could not act on it under the Conflict of Interest Statute. He left a letter to be read, explaining the situation.

The letter was read, and the Selectmen voted unanimously to exempt Mr Banda from the applications of the Conflict of Interest law, relative to the proposed addition to his home.

DRUG MISUSE - OUR WORST HEALTH PROBLEM

The misuse of drugs is one of the major health problems in the nation today. Massachusetts ranks fourth among the states in terms of magnitude of its drug problem. For reasons of illegality and disapproval (in most circles), drug users make every effort to hide any dependency. The association of actual numbers of users is therefore difficult, however some facts are worth considering.

Facts

In 1968 the Boston courts handled six times as many drug cases as they had in 1964, evidence that the problem is expanding rapidly. In 1968 the State Division of Food and Drugs analyzed for the police ten times the number of drug samples that they had in 1964, further evidence of expansion, and proof that our law enforcement agencies are working to keep abreast of it.

Virtually all of the young people committed to our state penal institutions for various offenses have some drug history. Young people testify that harmful drugs may be purchased in the washrooms of our high schools. The number of drug cases in our state courts last year increased by 350% from the previous year. The word is reportedly out that Boston is THE place to make the drug scene in the summer of 1969.

These are shocking facts. But facts they are. Those refusing to accept them are hiding from a problem of such severity that it must be considered a threat to us all.

Need for Drastic Change

A special commission to study the extent of the use of harmful, injurious and illegal drugs within the Commonwealth has recently completed its report. I served on that commission. I have also had occasion to observe the consequences of drug use as a member of the Committee on Social Welfare. Several conclusions have become obvious.

Our laws and our thinking regarding drug use are out of date. They are incapable of solving today's problems.

We must maintain and continue to enforce stringent laws concerning drug 'pushers' and importers. At the same time we should modify or eliminate the laws concerning merely being present where there are drugs. The penalty for the use of marijuana should be reduced consistent with the mildness of the offense.

The focus of our thinking on drug users must be changed from one in which we treat them as criminals to one in which we treat them for their sickness of drug-dependency. This is a major revision in approach but one which is essential to a true solution of the problem.

Most important, we must conduct an intensive and continuing program of education on the dangers of drugs to discourage experimentation by our young people. Some activity in this field is underway.

Paul Andrews of Woburn is a leader in this area. Channel 2 has recently televised a series for use in high school classrooms. Some of our school systems and police departments in this district are conducting education programs. Such efforts are worthy of commendation. Educational measures must be expanded and continued until the dangers of drugs are realized by every young person in the Commonwealth.

Educational campaigns must be conducted to prevent the often lethal effect of inhaling the contents of aerosol cans and the sniffing of glue and other euphoric fumes.

Legislative Steps

Several bills on the subject of drug dependency have been filed in this session. Reps. McGlennan and Buckley, Senator Umana and I have co-sponsored a bill drafted by the former Attorney General, Under Secretary of State Elliot Richardson. This bill advocates the 'change of focus' mentioned above.

Under its provisions, drug-dependent persons accused of drug-related crimes of a non-violent nature (for example - someone who committed a burglary to obtain money to support his habit) would have the option to receive treatment for his dependency rather than be prosecuted for his offense.

Any one electing treatment would be sent to a center supervised by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health until he was cured or had completed the maximum mandatory period of treatment or was released by court order.

Insufficient Facilities

In 1964 Massachusetts became the third state to enact progressive legislation for the treatment of drug addicts. At that time we established the Drug Addiction Rehabilitation Board which operates three treatment centers, one at Boston State Hospital in Mattapan for both in and out patient treatment, one at the correctional institution at Bridgewater for maximum security in-patient care and one at Boston City Hospital in Roxbury for out-patients only. These are not adequate.

The drug problem has come upon us so quickly that we are woefully short of facilities needed to handle the problem. There is no state treatment center in the Worcester or Springfield areas. While the incidence of drug use in the western part of the state is substantially less than in the east, the nearly 400 cases that reached the courts there in 1968 cannot be ignored.

Halfway House

Another bill of great promise in the area of treatment facilities is H 3882. This will transfer a vacant building at the Essex County Sanatorium to the Wakefield Drug Action Committee. Using federal and private foundation funds, the WDAC plans to operate the facility as a halfway house where professional staff and reformed addicts will help drug-dependent people rehabilitate themselves. This excellent proposal could serve as a pilot for other programs throughout the commonwealth.

The Problem is Here and Now

Our immediate area is not excepted from the drug problem. Out of 4035 cases in the state concerning drugs in the twelve months ending June 20, 1968, 21 cases were heard in the Woburn District Court and 11 in Lowell. In the first five months of 1968 there were 10 juvenile drug offenders in court from this district. The problem is not overwhelming, but it does exist and it is growing rapidly. It is essential that we confront it now with education, with legislative improvements and with proper treatment.

Selectmen's Meeting

Robert Morehouse, of the US Department of Agriculture, told the Board of Selectmen Monday night that the area eastward of Kenwood Avenue, while composed of 'muck', can be drained.

But the Board of Selectmen probably did not hear the statement. They were too busy extending congratulations to each other, for having given the area an adverse report, in a Hatch Act hearing of about a year ago.

The Selectmen listened, or so it seemed, only until the word 'muck' was used, before they started their self-congratulations.

Morehouse and Ralph Work, both soil scientists attached to the Soil Conservation Service, and cooperating with the Middlesex Conservation District, spent an hour with the Selectmen, displaying the plans of Wilmington which had been made, as a result of the soil survey of last summer, and explaining the technical terms used in the report which accompanies the maps.

Present, in addition to the Selectmen were several members of the Planning Board, and Christian Bachman, chairman of the Conservation Commission.

Morehouse told the Selectmen that the work in Wilmington had been done as a result of a contract signed by the Wilmington Planning Board in January 1968, and the work was done last summer.

The aerial photos, he told the Selectmen, can be interpreted for the types of soils, which were clued by symbols, all of which are explained in a booklet which accompanies the maps.

The maps are for general use he told the Selectmen, and are indicators of the type of soil that is to be found in the various areas. For detailed knowledge a local examination is advisable.

Each soil has definite characteristics and qualities. In the type of survey done for Wilmington, the soils are mapped or separated on the bases of such properties as texture, natural soil drainage, amount of stones, depth to bedrock, slope gradient, hardpan, and other features which can be evaluated to predict the limitation of a particular soil for a specific use.

Deep Muck

Wilmington, according to the interpretations of the maps and the survey, has a lot of Deep Muck. The survey shows that there are 1819 acres of muck, suitable for wildlife, and not much else, or, percentage wise, 16%. He did say that such areas can be remedied.

The names used in classifying the soils were almost exotic. The explanation was that the names had been picked and used as soil scientists and geologists were exploring the land of Massachusetts, and frequently land in a local area had its generic name given to areas all over New England.

Birchwood, one of the names used, sounds like the name of a summer camp. It is the name for rocky out-croppings in moderately drained soil. Wilmington has a total of 220 acres of 'Birchwood'.

Septic Tanks

Limitations for use of soil for septic tank purposes are shown. Words such as 'moderate' and 'severe' limitations were used to describe the soils.

Morehouse told the Selectmen several times that he hoped the board would use the determinations as a guide in solving problems.

It was George Boylen who made the enquiry about Alderwood Estates. After locating the area on the map Morehouse told the Selectmen that the soil was of 'deep muck, Birchwood and Scarboro soils'. He said that this should not be built on.

When the Selectmen mystifyingly said that homes already exist on it, Morehouse said quietly that the 'Birchwood' could provide drainage if a stream above were cut off. This, he thought, would provide relief.

Interpretive Maps

Provided with the survey were a number of 'Interpretive' maps, provided for special uses by the various boards and officials. Mr. Morehouse discouraged using them except for General Planning.

They could be colored to show the various soils, green, red, blue, etc. each number having its own color. It could be a nice job, he said, for some civic minded group or, for instance, a group of Boy or Girl Scouts.

Green could mean ready for use, yellow could mean caution, etc. etc.

TM Morris wanted to know if there was anything 'unusual' relative to the soil of Wilmington.

Work said there was an intricate pattern of sandy outwash in the swampy areas. The high points were stony glacial till, with gravel plains in between, interspersed with much soils - approximately 10% sandy, 10% bedrock, 36% gravel.

The maps are to be turned over to the Town Manager, for distribution to the various boards and officials needing them.

Other Business

Mrs Madelyn McKie reported on the as yet unnumbered bill in the State House (reported on the front page of this issue).

George Morey and Edward DeLoury to discuss their land on Andover Street, as required by the Board of Appeals. They have land on which two homes can be built.

Mr DeLoury indicated the removal of 10,000 yards of gravel in accordance with the Board of Appeals decision 'in and out of town'. On inquiry from Mrs Drew he set a termination date of one year.

A 3 to 1 slope instead of a 2 to 1 slope previously shown, was indicated. Town Engineer Arthur Harding had discussed this with the Town Counsel, and that a 3 to 1 slope was indicated. Deloury and Morey presented a $3000 bond.

Boylen, who moved to vote a permit for one year, to May 1, 1970, remarked that this 'was a test'. The two men replied that the town officials were 'welcome' on the property at any time, to note their performance.

A vote was taken. Boylen and MacDonald were in favor, and Miceli voted No. Mrs. Drew could not vote, since her son is employed by DeLoury and Morey.

Banda unhappily asked what kind of a bond was offered. He was told 'Performance Bond'. Miceli said it was 'no good - too hard to enforce'. The two applicants then left, and left the exhibits and bond with the TM.

There was a review of a violation of the Zoning Bylaws, and a decision in favor of enforcement. An abatement on Marcia Road was discussed, and then deferred until details could be obtained from the Principal Assessor.

Mr Banda wanted to know 'How many members were going to that prison on May 21st?' It was an invitation he was talking about, and Miceli moved that the 'Chairman Go!'

cause of the difficulties now being experienced in getting to Lowell. They want an office for a twice a month business, with a waiting room. It was referred to the TM.

A letter from Sidney Rosenthal, owner of property off Dell Drive, questioned statements about the excavations. Mr. Rosenthal, who is an attorney, requested a copy of the town's by laws 'so I can determine my rights'. Banda instructed the TM to send a copy. 'Charge $1.00?' asked Morris. 'Right', was the reply.

Senator Kennedy has invited the Selectmen to Washington as his guests on June 9 and 10. Boylen thought he would like to go. The board will discuss it later.

A Hatch Act hearing was set up for land on West Street, at the request of Paul Butt of Woburn St. The hearing will be on June 2 because there will be no meeting next Monday.

Christian Bachman, chairman of the Conservation Commission, told the Selectmen that his commission is never apprised of the Hatch Act hearings. This was a surprise to the board, who thought that the policy was to notify the Conservation Commission.

David Trickett of Suncrest Avenue asked that the Selectmen set up a committee of five to investigate the building of a skating rink. He suggested that there are several ways in which a rink can now be built, and that the most logical seemed to be as a part of school construction, because 50% of the money can be re-imbursed.

A question as to the disposal of the Grange Hall was discussed. The TM reported that there seemed to be a defective legal description.

New Business

Mrs Drew charged the TM with having a clean Town Square for Memorial Day. MacDonald then charged him with having a clean up in the Cemetery. Boylen then changed the tone, and complimented him on the Stop signs at Adams and Parker Streets, and Sheridan Road.

Boylen suggested that work be started on studying plans for Olson Road and extension to Cain's garage on one end, and Rocco's on the other. He moved that the Selectmen proceed with this as their project, and have a board meeting with Rep. Fred Cain and the Town Engineer. Mr Banda is to arrange it.

Banda withdrew early, saying that he had a Board of Appeals case coming up, and he could not act on it under the Conflict of Interest Statute. He left a letter to be read, explaining the situation.

The letter was read, and the Selectmen voted unanimously to exempt Mr Banda from the applications of the Conflict of Interest law, relative to the proposed addition to his home.

DRUG MISUSE - OUR WORST HEALTH PROBLEM

The misuse of drugs is one of the major health problems in the nation today. Massachusetts ranks fourth among the states in terms of magnitude of its drug problem. They want an office for a twice a month business, with a waiting room. It was referred to the TM.

A letter from Sidney Rosenthal, owner of property off Dell Drive, questioned statements about the excavations. Mr. Rosenthal, who is an attorney, requested a copy of the town's by laws 'so I can determine my rights'. Banda instructed the TM to send a copy.

'Charge $1.00?' asked Morris.

'Right', was the reply.

Senator Kennedy has invited the Selectmen to Washington as his guests on June 9 and 10. Boylen thought he would like to go. The board will discuss it later.

A Hatch Act hearing was set up for land on West Street, at the request of Paul Butt of Woburn St.

The hearing will be on June 2 because there will be no meeting next Monday.

Christian Bachman, chairman of the Conservation Commission, told the Selectmen that his commission is never apprised of the Hatch Act hearings. This was a surprise to the board, who thought that the policy was to notify the Conservation

Commission.

David Trickett of Suncrest Avenue asked that the Selectmen set up a committee of five to investigate the building of a skating rink

He suggested that there are several ways in which a rink can now be built, and that the most logical seemed to be as a part of school construction, because 50% of the money can be re-imbursed.

A question as to the disposal of the Grange Hall was discussed.

The TM reported that there seemed to be a defective legal description.

New Business

Mrs Drew charged the TM with having a clean Town Square for Memorial Day. MacDonald then charged him with having a clean up in the Cemetery. Boylen then changed the tone, and complimented him on the Stop signs at

Adams and Parker Streets, and Sheridan Road.

Boylen suggested that work be started on studying plans for Olson

Road and extension to Cain's garage on one end, and Rocco's on the other. He moved that the Selectmen proceed with this as their project, and have a board meeting with Rep. Fred Cain and the Town Engineer. Mr Banda is to arrange it.

Banda withdrew early, saying that he had a Board of Appeals case coming up, and he could not act on it under the Conflict of Interest Statute. He left a letter to be read, explaining the situation.

The letter was read, and the Selectmen voted unanimously to exempt Mr Banda from the applications of the Conflict of Interest law, relative to the proposed addition to his home.

By Senator Ronald MacKenzie

DRUG MISUSE - OUR WORST HEALTH PROBLEM

The misuse of drugs is one of the major health problems in the nation today. Massachusetts ranks fourth among the states in terms of magnitude of its drug problem. For reasons of illegality and disapproval (in most circles), drug users make every effort to hide any dependency. The association of actual numbers of users is therefore difficult, however some facts are worth considering.

Facts

In 1968 the Boston courts handled six times as many drug cases as they had in 1964, evidence that the problem is expanding rapidly. In 1968 the State Division of Food and Drugs analyzed for the police ten times the number of drug samples that they had in 1964, further evidence of expansion, and proof that our law enforcement agencies are working to keep abreast of it.

Virtually all of the young people committed to our state penal institutions for various offenses have some drug history. Young people testify that harmful drugs may be purchased in the washrooms of our high schools. The number of drug cases in our state courts last year increased by 350% from the previous year. The word is reportedly out that Boston is THE place to make the drug scene in the summer of 1969.

These are shocking facts. But facts they are. Those refusing to accept them are hiding from a problem of such severity that it must be considered a threat to us all.

Need for Drastic Change

A special commission to study the extent of the use of harmful, injurious and illegal drugs within the Commonwealth has recently completed its report. I served on that commission. I have also had occasion to observe the consequences of drug use as a member of the Committee on Social Welfare. Several conclusions have become obvious.

Our laws and our thinking regarding drug use are out of date. They are incapable of solving today's problems.

We must maintain and continue to enforce stringent laws concerning drug 'pushers' and importers. At the same time we should modify or eliminate the laws concerning merely being present where there are drugs. The penalty for the use of marijuana should be reduced consistent with the mildness of the offense.

The focus of our thinking on drug users must be changed from one in which we treat them as criminals to one in which we treat them for their sickness of drug-dependency. This is a major revision in approach but one which is essential to a true solution of the problem.

Most important, we must conduct an intensive and continuing program of education on the dangers of drugs to discourage experimentation by our young people. Some activity in this field is underway.

Paul Andrews of Woburn is a leader in this area. Channel 2 has recently televised a series for use in high school classrooms. Some of our school systems and police departments in this district are conducting education programs. Such efforts are worthy of commendation. Educational measures must be expanded and continued until the dangers of drugs are realized by every young person in the Commonwealth.

Educational campaigns must be conducted to prevent the often lethal effect of inhaling the contents of aerosol cans and the sniffing of glue and other euphoric fumes.

Legislative Steps

Several bills on the subject of drug dependency have been filed in this session. Reps. McGlennon and Buckley, Senator Umana and I have co-sponsored a bill drafted by the former Attorney General, Under Secretary of State Elliot Richardson. This bill advocates the 'change of focus' mentioned above.

Under its provisions, drug-dependent persons accused of drug-

related crimes of a non-violent nature (for example - someone who committed a burglary to obtain money to support his habit) would have the option to receive treatment for his dependency rather than be prosecuted for his offense.

Any one electing treatment would be sent to a center supervised by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health until he was cured or had completed the maximum mandatory period of treatment or was released by court order.

Insufficient Facilities

In 1964 Massachusetts became the third state to enact progressive legislation for the treatment of drug addicts. At that time we established the Drug Addiction Rehabilitation Board which operates three treatment centers, one at Boston State Hospital in Mattapan for both in and out patient treatment, one at the correctional institution at Bridgewater for maximum security in-patient care and one at Boston City Hospital in Roxbury for out-patients only. These are not adequate.

The drug problem has come upon us so quickly that we are woefully short of facilities needed to handle the problem. There is no state treatment center in the Worcester or Springfield areas. While the incidence of drug use in the western part of the state is substantially less than in the east, the nearly 400 cases that reached the courts there in 1968 cannot be ignored.

Halfway House

Another bill of great promise in the area of treatment facilities is H 3882. This will transfer a vacant building at the Essex County Sanatorium to the Wakefield Drug Action Committee. Using federal and private foundation funds, the WDAC plans to operate the facility as a halfway house where professional staff and reformed addicts will help drug-dependent people rehabilitate themselves. This excellent proposal could serve as a pilot for other programs throughout the commonwealth.

The Problem is Here and Now

Our immediate area is not excepted from the drug problem. Out of 4035 cases in the state concerning drugs in the twelve months ending June 20, 1968, 21 cases were heard in the Woburn District Court and 11 in Lowell. In the first five months of 1968 there were 10 juvenile drug offenders in court from this district. The problem is not overwhelming, but it does exist and it is growing rapidly. It is essential that we confront it now with education, with legislative improvements and with proper treatment.

HOME OWNERS CORNER

Pots and pans that rock around wherever you put them can be a nuisance.

If the man of the house owns a plastic-headed hammer (often used on chisels) or a rubber fender mallet, he can turn the pot upside down (with some rags between it and the kitchen counter) and give it a good whack on the bottom.

This flattens the bottom and stops the pot from rocking. If you don't have this type of hammer, just lay a block of wood on the bottom of the pot and whack it with an ordinary hammer. This should do the trick!

If a Policeman gets Promoted — He's Got Political Pull

Robert C LaRivee, Patrolman of the Wilmington Police Department attended the Northern Middlesex Police Academy at Lowell State College last month.

Among the policemen finishing the course, were members of the Lowell, Burlington, Woburn Depts and the FBI, the Lowell District Court, the Middlesex Cnty's District Attorney's Office and others. The graduation address was given by James L. Handley, the Special Agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Boston. His words were as follows:

"I am indeed honored to have been invited to address this graduating class of the Lowell Police Academy.

May I extend to you the sincere congratulations of J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, as well as my own personal best wishes.

The profession you have chosen and on which you are now embarking today is one that gives you the opportunity to join the firstline of defense for your city, your state, and your country. It is a demanding task and one that will require great courage.

On your shoulders, you carry a great responsibility for you will have focused upon you the eyes of all the citizenry.

We have all listened to many talks and we have read many articles concerning professionalism in law enforcement. We have perhaps reached the point where we are all tired of hearing about it, and if this be the case, we must re-align our sights - for professionalism is needed today as never before as law enforcement faces great challenges.

We are living in an age of discontent and discord. We have 'love-ins, be-ins, sit ins' and every other type of a demonstration called civil disturbances by the weakhearted and discontents but which have in fact, degenerated into riots or at least rampant anarchy masquerading under the guise of peaceful protest.

The government can neither function nor survive unless it can maintain and establish law and order. For without law and order there can be no economic progress no social progress and indeed nothing but chaos.

Violence, crime and mob rule have never advanced anybody's cause or country.

The urgency of the crime problem is apparent to anyone who seeks to acquaint themselves with the facts.

In these United States, since 1960, the volume of crime has risen nearly nine times as fast as America's expanding population. With a record of more than 3/8 million serious crimes committed in 1967, we see that again in the year 1968 crime rose substantially over the previous all-time high of 1967.

We perhaps recognize more than anyone that too much crime has been condoned in our country. We see increasingly used the excuse of a poor childhood and society's failure which somehow cause crime and somehow constitute a license to rob and riot.

Society does not cause crime. People cause crime. And, it is time that a hard line be taken with the lawless and that they be told and impressed that -- we do not think you are sick. We do not think you are a product of a disorganized society. We think you are a criminal, you should be apprehended, punished and put in jail.

You Men, whom it is my honor to address today, are dedicated Men -- Men who have chosen the highest possible form of public service...that of protecting the public.

Today a law enforcement officer badge is a symbol of public faith. It is a symbol of complex and heavy responsibilities representing a public trust.

Over the past years, law enforcement has made great progress. Equipment and facilities have improved. Significant and far-reaching scientific advances have been made. Police officers on a day-to-day basis do outstanding and magnificent work. However all these changes and achievements become meaningless when one officer is bent who does not live up to the high standards and ethics of professional police service. And under the conditions we find existing today, this commitment requires perseverance of the highest order.

We find in many parts of the United States the law enforcement officer is the principal target of mob and dissident groups. He is insulted, physically attacked, falsely accused of brutality by persons who seek alibis and excuses for their criminal acts...and, thru all this, he must exercise self-restraint, remain calm and courageous, never deviate from his code of ethics and his conduct must be above reproach.

It is the obligation of all members of our profession to constantly strive to erase the ugly public image of the Policeman with out character and toward this end absolute integrity is the only answer.

As Mr. Hoover has stated: Even one instance of dishonesty or use of excessive force by a police officer is one too many. But, he has also cautioned - to cast doubt upon the decency, sincerity, or integrity of the entire portion...based on the actions of a very few - actions which we all know are the definite exceptions indeed, not the rule - would be wholly unjustified and unfair.

If I may, in an effort to point out the expectation of what is demanded of a Police Officer in the year 1969, may I cite the contents of an article written by Paul Harvey, a noted commentator and journalist, which appeared in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin... The article is entitled 'What are Policemen made of?'

A policeman is a composite of what all men are, a mingling of saint and sinner, dust and deity.

Culled statistics wave the fan over the stinkers, underscore instances of dishonesty and brutality because they are news. What that really means is that they are exceptional, unusual, not commonplace.

Buried under the froth is the fact - less than one-half of one per cent of policemen misfit that uniform.

That's a better average than you'd find among clergymen.

The policeman, of all men, is at once the most needed and the most unwanted.

He's a strangely nameless creature who is sir to his face and fuzz behind his back.

He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals so that each will think he won...But...If the policeman is Neat, he's conceited - If he's careless, he's a bum. If he's pleasant, he's a flirt - If he's not, he's a grouch.

He must make in an instant, decisions which would require months for a lawyer.

But...If he hurries, he's careless if he's deliberate, he's lazy. He must be first to an accident and infallible with a diagnosis.

The Police Officer must know every gun, draw on the run, and hit where it doesn't hurt.

He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being brutal.

If you hit him, he's a coward, if he hits you, he's a bully.

A Policeman must know everything, and not tell.

He must know where all the sin is - and not partake.

The Policeman must, from a single human hair, be able to describe the crime, the weapon and the criminal - and tell you where the criminal is hiding.

If he gets promoted, he has political pull - If he doesn't, he's a dullard.

The Policeman must chase bum leads to a dead end, stake out ten nights to tag one witness who saw it happen, but refuses to remember.

He runs files and writes reports until his eyes ache to build a case against some felon who'll get dealt out by a shameless shamus or an honorable who isn't.

The Policeman must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat a tough guy, and a gentleman. And, of course, he'll have to be a genius...

For he'll have to feed a family on a Policeman's salary.

It is a well-established fact that you men who are graduating today can be thankful and owe a debt of gratitude to the several chiefs of the Merrimack Valley Area who, because of their interest and foresight established this fine school and also to the staff...to the patience and expertise of the instructors, who have participated in your school...and, because of this, all law enforcement now believes you are not only ready, willing, and able to face the task which confronts us all -- but to do it in the dedicated, determined and outstanding manner that is always present, but grossly unappreciated.

New Boy Scout Executive

SCOUT EXECUTIVE CARL BOVAY: At Villanova Hall, last Thursday evening. In the background are John L. Duffet of Lowell, Director of the Wamesit District Council, of which Wilmington is a part, and Tom Joyce of Middlesex Avenue Wilmington, Meeting Chairman.

Carl Bovay, the new Boy Scout Executive for the Greater Lowell Council of Boy Scouts received a pleasant welcome, last Thursday evening, from the Boy Scout leaders of Wilmington.

Several of Wilmington's Scouters, after the meeting, expressed private opinions that "We will now see some progressive action".

Mr. Bovay talked for two hours on the problems of Scouting, in the Greater Lowell Council. Wilmington has more Boy Scouts in the Council than any other comparable area, a total of 348 Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers. There are 3800 in the Greater Lowell Council.

Among the items discussed by Bovay was finances.

It costs about $20 a year, for each Boy Scout, in the Greater Lowell Council. There are good contributions from both the Lowell Community Chest and the Wilmington Community Fund. But this does not pay the entire bill, and the Council runs about $8 or $9 thousand in arrears each year.

The Boy Scout policy is to charge only $1 a year for membership in any Boy Scout organization. This is to ensure that Scouting will be open to every boy, regardless of his family financial status.

Wilmington Scouters are to make a plea to those families who can afford a donation, through their troops. The donation is to be called a "Sustaining Membership", and contributions of $5 or $10 will be asked from those families with Boys in the troops.

$8500 is to be raised in this way from the nine communities served by the Greater Lowell Council.

No Fireworks!

Finance Committee

There were no fireworks at the meeting of the Wilmington Finance Committee on May 14th. Selectman Jim Miceli had stated that he would be there, and would have the press present. But Selectman Miceli left the Selectmen's meeting early, reporting that he was sick, and did not show at the Finance Committee meeting.

Chairman Richard Barry opened the meeting by stating that there were two items of business, both old.

The first was an old bill. It was quickly taken care of.

The second were the charges by the Selectman. Miceli not being present Barry asked each individual if he - Barry - was exerting any undue influence. The answer in each case was negative. All members were present.

There was a quiet apology from the Finance Committee man who had sided with Miceli.

Charles Mather of Park Street was elected chairman for the coming year, and Mrs. Jeanne Pedersen of Federal Street was elected vice chairman.

BLACKFRIARS OF AUSTIN PREP

On Friday and Saturday nights May 23 and 24 at 8 pm, the Blackfriars of Austin Prep will present three one-act plays.

These will include Edward Albee's The Zoo Story, The Dumb Waiter by Harold Pinter, and The Revolution by Robert Duffy, who is an Austin Student.

Admission is $1.00. All are invited.

STATE POLICE ACADEMY APPOINTEES

Joseph J. Micalizzi of 17 Marjorie Road, and Lawrence L. Redding of 83 Park Street, both of Wilmington, have been appointed recruits, to the new 53rd Training Troop at the Massachusetts State Police Academy in Framingham. Training was started on Monday morning, and this class is probably the last who will receive their training at the present installation. Construction is to start in a few months of a new $3,030,000 academy, at the same location.

The Trooper candidates will undergo an intensive fifteen week training course, under the direction of Lt. Charles W. Gilligan, Academy Commandant.

Dear Mr Graceffa:

To say that my wife and I merely enjoyed the efforts of you and your band at the Exchange Concert last night, would be a vast understatement. It was just terrific!

We enjoyed the whole concert immensely. It is easy to see the respect and admiration which you enjoy from every member of the Wilmington Band. Your work and their have certainly paid off, that is most evident.

We wish to say that if the conduct and adaptability of ALL your band members is as good as that of the two boys we had with us, you have much to be proud of. They were perfect gentlemen, and fitted in just wonderfully, at all times. Of course, anyone could say that since there were here for just a short time that naturally they were good. However, we do not think this is the case. We really feel that they are great kids, have great parents, and have been well brought up. These qualities show through, you know.

The boys I refer to are Bill Downs, Trombone and Plano, and Ken Bedell, Trumpet. They are welcome in our home Anytime.

We would appreciate it very much, if you could make it a special point to call their parents, and let them know how we feel.

Also, if you desire, you could pass this on to the school officials, and last, but by no means least, your great band.

Thank you again for such a fine evening, and a great group of young musicians.

We hope our band members will all fit in as well.

Sincerely
Robert L. Anderson

The Wildcats crumpled Tewksbury on Wednesday in a very satisfying five-year delayed track victory by a 90 - 23 score.

It was a meet in which just about everyone performed up to his maximum. Ed Thomas with two firsts and a tie for first was the big point winner and Mike Esposito's two firsts and a second put the frosting on the cake. Carl Cotter attained personal bests in the shot and discus. Rick Smallidge, Larry Harrington, Joe Marasco, and Chris Shea were the other first place winners. This victory raised the Wildcats record to 6 and 3.

A tremendous team effort enabled the Wildcats to nose out arch-rival Chelmsford for a fine second place showing behind powerful Andover in Saturday's Merrimack Valley Conference Championship Track Meet.

This was truly a team triumph as the Wildcats scored in 11 out of 13 events. A second place finish by the relay team of Hexlitt Gillis, Smallidge, and L. Harrington climaxed an uphill battle to ensure 35 points to the Lions 31. A new school record of 1,35.0 was set in this event.

Great individual performances were turned in by Carl Cotter with a first in the Discus, 137 ft 4 in and fourth in the shot with a toss of 47 ft 9 in; Ed Thomas second in the high hurdles with a new school record of 9.3, a fourth in the high jump at 5 ft 8 in and a fifth in the low hurdles; Mike Esposito third in the 220 with a new school record of 22.8 and fifth in the 100 with still in the 100 with a new school record of 22.8 and fifth in the 100 with still another record performance of 10.2; Rick Smallidge second in the low hurdles at 14.2; Bob Barry fourth in the high hurdles at 9.5; Larry Harrington third in the 440 at 53.6; Frank Harrington fourth in the 880; Lenny Sawyer fifth in the discus and Chris Shea fifth in the two mile.

In the State Track Meet on Saturday at White Stadium in Boston the Wildcats will be represented by Cotter, discus; Winchell, shot put; Thomas, high jump; Hexlitt, 100; Weed and Esposito, 220; L. Harrington, 440; F. Harrington 880 Marasco, mile; Smallidge and Gillis, low hurdles; Thomas and Barry, high hurdles.

SOFTBALL

The girls varsity suffered their third and fourth losses of the season last week as they were edged by Tewksbury, 17 - 16, and dropped by Methuen, 14 - 5. The girls were leading Tewksbury 16 - 11 going into the last of the seventh, but the opposition scored six runs on five hits to overcome the Wildcats lead.

The team now has a 1 - 4 record. The leaders in batting are: Joyce McMillan, 9 for 19, and a .474 batting average; Joan Cushing, .450; Kathy Whitney, .437; Linda Spinney, .412; Stephanie Langone, .389 and Evelyn Lawson at .350. The team is weak defensively and this is the main reason for the poor win-and loss record.

BASEBALL

The varsity loss all of their league encounters last week to stretch their winless streak to ten. On Tuesday, they were edged by Andover, 3-2; Wednesday, Dracut bombed them, 15-3; Friday, Methuen tripped them up, 2-1, and this past Monday, they were shut-out 6-0 as Chelmsford scored all of their runs in the seventh inning.

The JV's evened their record at 7-7 winning three out of four last week. They beat Andover, 4-1; Methuen, 10-4; and Chelmsford 1-0 while losing to Dracut, 2-1. John McNevin was the winning pitcher twice as he threw a six-hitter at Andover and beat Methuen in relief.

In the 1-0 victory over Chelmsford, Billy Gustus allowed six hits but was tough in the clutch as the younger Wildcats were able to make only two hits for their only run in the sixth inning on a double by Harry Stewart and an infield single by McNevin.

The Freshmen lost all of their games last week and now have a 1-6-1 record. They were beaten by Andover East Jr High 6-2, Tewksbury 6-3, Methuen 4-3 and Chelmsford 6-0.

Thoroughbred Colt

There have been many horses born in Wilmington, but never a Thoroughbred, until May 6th of this year. He is living on the Delpre Farm, of Paul Delaney, off Chestnut Street, and will kick out on any occasion, against any intruder. He has a strong lineage. Both his sire and his dam were successfully raced by John J Allen of 608 Woburn St., and both won their last starts, in the spring of 1968, at Lincoln Downs, in Rhode Island. The sire is Orange Hill, by Spy Song, and he was a $35,000 Handicap Winner, while a three year old, in New York. The dam, Alden Start, was also a consistent winner of many races in the New England circuit, and was bred in Canada. She is a Blue Larkspur Mare, considered the best female line of Thoroughbreds in America today.

A BAY COLT, AS YET UNNAMED: Is believed to be the first Thoroughbred ever foaled in Wilmington. He is the property of John Allen of Woburn Street, and Paul Delaney of Chestnut Street, and was foaled on May 6th.

NIGHT SEANCE: The lights went out, during the Planning Board meeting in the Hiller House, Tuesday night, and while Town Manager Sterling Morris was trying to first find a fuse, and then a place to use that fuse Morton Grant of the board went out to his car and brought back a trouble light.

Mrs. Cindy Williams of the Conservation Commission and Rod Laughton of the Finance Committee used the trouble light to continue their study of the Soil Study maps, under discussion. It took the Town Manager nearly an hour to get the lights on, and meanwhile the Town Crier got this spectacular photograph, using only available light.

Mort Grant, who provided the light, is silhouetted against it.

ZONING BY LAW (From Fr. Page)

bit of proposed legislation in the State House.

This is because the bill is a redraft of previous bills which have been submitted during the current legislative year - S1137, S1141, H2924, H3175 and H3603. Also, it is understood, the proposed law will not have to go through the process of having public hearings, before committees. The previous-named bills have already gone through those hearings.

Emergency Preamble

The bill has an Emergency Preamble. If passed by the Legislature it thus immediately becomes law.

It was prepared by the Committee on Urban Affairs, which is largely composed of city based legislators, who are heartily in favor of the proposed law.

Rep. Fred F. Cain first became aware of the proposed law last weekend. Immediately he set about getting copies. He was one of the first legislators, other than those in the committee, to know of the proposed law.

By Monday morning he had copies of the bill for Mrs. Madelyn McKie.

Mrs. McKie went to the Selectmen's meeting Monday night and spoke of the dangers in the bill, and gave that board a copy of the proposed law.

She then went to North Reading, to see Ed Sweeney of the North Reading Planning Board. Mr. Sweeney is the Director of Region 5A of the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards. He is sending copies of the bill to all 23 planning boards in Region 5A.

Letters Needed

There is only one way to defeat the bill, Mrs. McKie told the Town Crier, and that is to alert all the legislators in Massachusetts of the drastic consequences if the proposed law is voted.

Specifically, she said, Senator Ronald MacKenzie and Representative Fred Cain should receive 'thousands' of letters, which they can show to the other legislators.

One Thousand Letters to each of the two men, she said, 'would not be too many!'

OLD LIBRARY TO HOUSE TOWN OFFICES

The old Library, now standing vacant on Middlesex Avenue, is to become the office of the Wilmington board of Health, and the Building Inspector.

Town Manager Sterling Morris plans to move the Health Director, the School Nurse, the Building Inspector, the Board of Health and the Board of Appeals into the old Library, after some renovations have been made.

A paint job, new shutters, and some modernization on the inside are planned. A new sign, of a Colonial type, is planned.

The old building, which dates from 1833, is to be left in a state in which the fundamentals of the building will be preserved. The work will take about one month.

CAMPER SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED TO THREE

Camper Scholarships, for three Wilmington boys, were awarded last night by the Wilmington Conservation Committee.

The boys will spend two weeks at the Massachusetts Junior Conservation Camp, in the Spencer State Forest, west of Worcester, during the first two weeks of July.

Named to the scholarships were: Robert Thomas of Lowell Street, Keith D'Entrement of Hathaway Acres, and Marcel Deveau of Oakdale Road.

Alternates named were Greg Hannon of 465 Salem Street, Alfred Meegan of MacDonald Road, and Stephen Tower of 1 Davis Road.

Hi there! We have heard that the janitor of the Walker and Whitefield Schools is on the sick list, but don't know as yet why how or where, but will let you know next week...Debby Sullivan is still in the hospital...DON'T forget that youngster this week And Betty Wandell is at home on Shawshaven Avenue, with a new baby and a broken leg...That's really doing it up brown, there Betty!

Had a request to donate to a rummage sale this week. Seems that a nice young lady in town has joined the weight removers or something because she has a lot of nice ladies clothes to donate. Let this gal know if you have a rummage sale coming up, please!

Wonder if Sterling has swept the Square yet, and the Cemetery Don't know if those instructions included sweeping the Cemetery for Memorial Day or not...But if it is like last year, he'll have everything spotless and the flags flying for Memorial Day...and don't forget that Library Dedication this year...We believe 10:45 on Monday after the Exercises at the Cemetery.

Did you see that Vandalism on Adams Street to that new house? Terrifying...those kids ought to be made to pick up every smitch of glass and to replace every pane...That is absolutely ridiculous for this day and Town...!

Does your son or daughter want to study medicine?

For the aspiring student, a medical career offers many opportunities—private practice, research, teaching, administration, occupational health, school or college health, public health foreign service, or the armed forces.

Each opportunity requires different talents and abilities. Four personal traits, however, are musts, no matter what specialty a medical student chooses: Intellectual curiosity...concern for people...good health...and tenacity!

Concern for people is one of our personal traits, also. You can always rely on the dependable service at SILVER LAKE PHARMACY, 52 Main Street...Tel. 658-4617...Fully-stocked prescription dept...Open 7 days a week, 9 am to 10 pm.

also hear that the railroad had to run a special train and televise the mess the kids have made of the railroad...A fire on the platform this week...Lucky they don't belong to the clan...and 20 acres off Taft Road? Love to get my hands on them! Kids!

Saw a great sight on Monday am...One of the Gendarmes came down Burlington Avenue from the Square with a confused Golden Ager on his arm! Made this chick feel great that this is happening and that he had taken the time to escort her home with so much on his agenda for the day! Nice going there, fella!

Valerie Hersom, who is a five-year-old young lady, caught a 12 in. pickerel this week at her Grandmother's Camp in Lake Wentworth Wolfeboro, New Hampshire on last Sunday...That, is something, there, Vall!

Oze Desmarais of North Street was having a little lunch at home last Friday afternoon, when a young madam knocked on his door...She said, 'You have a fire out in your backyard'.

Wow...there sure was a fire... After Oze called and the Fire Laddies quenched the fire, Oze was wondering who in heck the lady was...He didn't get a chance to thank her, and she is still anonymous...Anyway, whoever you are and from wherever you came, our thanks to you for your good deed from this chick and Oze too! You're our kind of people!

Hear that a certain young lady has raised $30 for the Foreign Exchange Student Fund from selling her Horse 'fertilizer'...and she still has some left on Hopkins Street...Why don't you call her at 658-8220...Bring your own basket and the only fee is our holdup to you for your donation to the FES Fund...Thanks a bunch!

Now, here are the 'Don't..... Forgets' for you:

The Altar Boys are holding a Blitz at St Thomas Villanova Hall on Friday night at 8 pm...There are prizes for the whole family and all are welcome...And we hear that the Committee not only got the prizes donated, but the food as well...and it is home cooked refreshments for the whole group that night...Get down there, now!

And at 10 am on Saturday, get to DeMoulas to buy some of that homecooked baked goods that the Gal Scout Troop 487 is holding in the parking lot out front...and this money will be to back a trip to Pleasure Island for the small fry! Let's go now, here's your chance to eat good, and help out and get those kids to Pleasure Island! Thanks!

And let's go for a night out at the Policeman's Ball with a Dinner and social hour first... says Ye Officer Dolan! Turn out at $5 per head at the Moose Hall in North Reading...Social hour at 6 and Dinner at 7 pm and you can get a ticket from any Cop...including the Chief...or if you..... are feeling weak, call the station and they'll deliver...the tickets! That's a night out for the girls, there fellas, and promises to be a bunch of fun...So let's go...to the Policeman's Ball!

We had a notice from Senator Ted Kennedy that the applicants for military, naval, air force, and the merchant marine academies entering in June 1970 should be in touch with him and the Educational Testing Service prior to June 1 in order to participate in the exams to be given in July... Candidates must be 17 to 22 years and should write directly to: Sen Edward M Kennedy at 431 Old Senate Office Building, Washington DC 20510...This is a good chance there, kids!

Did you see that cute Antique and Uniques Shoppe in the building with Church Street Hardware? You're invited in to browse...And there's new Yarn Shoppe at 106 Main St near Silver Lake (at the Traffic lights). This will be opening on Tuesday and will sell yarn and accessories. Mrs Ruth Marranzini of 15 Wicks Circle will be the proprietor. Hours will be every day until 5 and Thursday and Friday nights until 9 pm.

Don't you High School Chicks forget your pictures Get them to Seacraft, so they can pick you for one of the four gals to model at their Swim and Fashion Show that they are having on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 6th and 7th...That should be a great taken, there folks!

Now the Boys:

Drafted on May 16th and now members of the U S Army are Michael T Dupras and Joseph A Vlerira, Jr., both of Wilmington Good luck, there, fellas, and let us know where you are and how!

Bob Madigan is home from the foray at Vietnam for a 30 day leave His Ma called us...and were we glad...He'll be going to Fort Lewis in Washington State after his 30 days...a Radio Man for the Army!

And speaking of Radio Men... That new group of Old Army Recruits that are abiding at Communications School at Ft Jackson, of which No 2 Son is a prime member that were inducted on Feb 13th... finally wangled themselves a 3 day pass...and now they will be arriving at Logan...all booked together Eastern on next Friday, May 30th, at 11 am...And will there be celebrating in the Clan You bet...and at the Stanley residence on Marion Street...and the Madeiros residence on Aldrich Road...Welcome home, Group!

Candy called us and told us that Jackie Wandell had a Purple Heart (and the Captain missed that one, oh ho!) Well, since this gal has known Jackie since he was knee high to a grasshopper she thought she had better check... So, she gave his sister in law Betty a call (That's the spouse of Fireman Danny Wandell) and found out that Jack not only had won a Purple Heart, but a Silver Cross, and a Presidential Citation for his bravery in combat in VietNam with the Marines...and has been promoted to a Corporal and will be home on the 20th of July...so hold the packages...and speaking of packages...if you think they are extravagance, hear this... Jack was fighting in the woods and they were cut off from their food supply...so the planes dropped their packages from home...and that was how they got their food to hold them over...so keep those packages going over there...Isn't that something? The last kid I heard about was just without his underwear, which his mother had to send... but no food! And look how fat this group will be getting next Saturday...with a Bake Sale and a Policeman's Dinner...This war is really something else!

Our Prayers are with you guys Take care of yourselves...and I hope that the President and Lodge will negotiate you out of there... like YESTERDAY? GOD BLESS YOU ALL!

RIGHT SUPPER - WRONG CHURCH - NO! - WRONG SUPPER - WELL, YOU FIGURE IT OUT!

AT THE COUNCIL OF CHURCHES POT LUCK SUPPER

There was a Pot Luck supper Tuesday evening, in the Congregational Church.

It was for the Wilmington Council of Churches - people from the Congregational of course, and from St. Thomas, and St. Dorothy's and the Baptist, and the Methodist --

Not everyone was sure that they knew all who were coming. It was slightly different from having old friends from your own church.

Two ladies came down and bustled around, helping with dishes they had brought.

No one knew them - but - Finally, somehow, one of the ladies realized that something was wrong. Not one of those present had a Girl Scout uniform on!

The Pot Luck Supper they were to attend was in a Wilmington church - but the Wilmington Methodist Church!

And they departed, into the night and to the other church.

AT THE GIRL SCOUT BALDWIN NEIGHBORHOOD SUPPER: Listening to the speaker are Mrs Joseph Krugh and Mrs Maurice Finn Jr., both of Tewksbury; Mrs Thomas Varnum of Lowell, Field Director; and Mrs Edmund Passmore of 41 Marcus Road Wilmington.

The ladies had over 50 dishes to choose from, ranging from Lobster Newburg to Swedish Meat Balls.
